Of Secretary of State In the
Waddy Bank Case

JUDGE STOUT HANGS TOWY IN PORTANT OPINION

PREVENTS ANY INTERFERENCE WITH BRANCH INSTITUTION

OUTCOME IS STATE WIDE

Shelburne, Ky., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Judge Stout, U. S. court here, today rendered his opinion in the case of the Waddy Bank of Louisville, which is pending in the federal court here. The opinion is a long and able one, and is expected to be a landmark in the history of the Waddy Bank case. The bank was organized in 1892, and was one of the largest banks in the state. It was owned and controlled by a few men, and was known for its dishonest practices. The bank was recently closed, and its assets were being liquidated. The federal government had taken over the bank, and was now trying to recover its money. Judge Stout's opinion is expected to be a landmark in the history of the Waddy Bank case, as it will determine the fate of the bank and its assets.

DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE IN SUPPORT OF CLAIM

PLAGIARISM IS CHARGED.

There is good reason to believe that the steamboat was not invented by Robert Fulton, as claimed by the Virginia Society for the Civilization of the West. The society has recently published a book, "The Steamboat and the West," which contains a long and able argument in support of their claim. The book is based on a study of the early history of the steamboat, and is expected to be a landmark in the history of the steamboat. The society has also published a book, "The Steamboat and the West," which contains a long and able argument in support of their claim. ## A Hundred Years Ago Today

In a lonely Kentucky cabin, one cold and wintry night, unto an humble pair, there came a child, to greatness born.

Amidst surroundings profound and solitary he grew up to man's estate, and, in power of mind and strength of body, developed the full flower of his individuality.

In due time the world acclaimed him the greatest American since Washington, and the greatest and most heroic exponent of Human Liberty that has trod the earth for two thousand years.

In the days of his young manhood there was alarm and terror in the land, and frightful domination.

At twenty, on the Mississippi's lordly bosom, he toiled at the oar for bread. At twenty-four he was a pioneer chief and a captain in the Black Hawk war. At twenty-five he was a rising young legislator—at twenty-six he was an eloquent lawyer defending the cause of the weak and the oppressed. At thirty-seven he became a Congressman.

Then came three her mantle upon him—and step by step he rose to place and power, until at last in the government of a vast republic and in the affections of all mankind he stood alone and absolute.

If ever there lived beneath the skies a Christian hero of sincere and profound piety, a true champion of the Lord of Hosts, it was ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

He spoke softly, he thought fearlessly, but like fire flamed his heart.

To the cause of the great Common People he gave limitless allegiance, and nothing made him more indignant than legislative tyranny or usurpation of any kind. "He disliked amputatory laws and would not prescribe by statute what other men should eat and drink."

Upon a famous occasion he declared: "When the white man governs himself, that is self government; but when he governs himself and also another man, that is more than self government—that is DESPOTISM."

Again, when fellow legislators attempted to impose absolute prohibition upon the young State of Illinois, he arose (Dec. 18th, 1840) "like Saul among the prophets" and tabled a motion which led to its defeat and final extinction by a sweeping vote of 75 to 8.

That of a Lincoln, from his birth to his inauguration as President of the United States, by God, West Hill Lumber, Cooper & Co. S. A. Page 8.

Wagon For Night Riders
A new motor wagon, designed for night riders, was introduced by the National Automobile Association. It is a small, light, and fast vehicle, with a top that can be raised or lowered at will. It is also equipped with a powerful searchlight, which can be directed at any point in the distance. The wagon is built on a sturdy chassis, and is capable of traveling at a speed of 40 miles per hour. It is a very useful vehicle for night riders, and is also suitable for use in other parts of the country.

who were born and who are now in the United States. The first section deals with the history of the black diaspora, from the slave trade to the present. The second section, on the other hand, is devoted to the study of the black community in the United States, and the third section deals with the black community in the Caribbean. The book is written in a clear and concise style, and is well illustrated with photographs and maps. It is a valuable addition to the literature on the black diaspora, and is highly recommended for all libraries and individuals interested in the subject.

THE LITTLE GIRL WHO WASN'T THERE—The picture which has been described as "the most beautiful thing ever put upon a screen," is undoubtedly a great production. It is an artistic work, and it is a masterpiece of its kind. The story is told in a way that is both interesting and moving. The acting is superb, and the direction is flawless. This is a film that you will want to see again and again.
